From Dr. London to his patients:

I am writing this letter to make you aware that I will be leaving Alliance as of July 31st, 2022. This has not been an easy decision, and one which is made more difficult because I have been treated very well and have felt entirely accepted here at Alliance. Nonetheless, so long as I keep my family's needs as my guiding principle then it is the right decision to make.

Over the past few months, my wife and I have been forced to re-evaluate our work-life balance owing to new pressures we are facing at home and abroad. With these ongoing developments, I have explored other opportunities that will allow me to better support my family at home.

What makes this decision so difficult is knowing that I am leaving an incredible team. The friendships and bonds that I have made at Alliance have made me a better physician and a better person, and I am forever thankful for all my experiences. As I move on from here, I hold you each of you in my memory, grateful for all the time we spent together. I will miss you and thank you for all you've given me.

Our Alliance family will assist you with selecting a provider that best meets your needs at your next regularly scheduled visit. Please do not hesitate to contact our office at 517-484-3000 with any additional questions or concerns. Your care is our highest priority.

Sincerely,

Kevin London, MD
